The Last Furrow

of the

CLASS OF 1938

National Farm School
Farm School, Pennna.

Tribute

TO OUR FOUNDER

RABBI JOSEPH KRAUSKOPF

We offer this, our humble work, as a tribute to his noble aims and splendid endeavors.

Preface

SINCE man first scratched a line on the clay wall of his cave, he has been writing books. Out of all these words set down in all languages and in all ages, we have selected a few of the most enduring, richest, rarest and best of these to illustrate our theme of "BOOKS" for the Last Furrow.

"Aesop's Fables"

Notes of Acknowledgement

THE LAST FURROW is neither a work of literature nor a complete biography, but rather a modest chronicle in which is set down brief intimate sketches of a particular group, the class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Eight, of the National Farm School.

We are aiming to reflect that bit of school life we shared together during which time we revealed our personalities, hopes, ideals and ambitions.

It has been three years of simple living and in the same simple manner we present to our readers this, The Last Furrow, as the final contribution to our Alma Mater.

"Don Quixote"

Miguel de Cervantes, 1514-1616

Dedication

THE Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-eight dedicates this book to HERBERT D. ALLMAN
our beloved president and friend, as a token of our esteem for his character and our appreciation of his efforts.

Appreciation

TO CHARLES KAHN, whom we respect and admire as a gentleman, philanthropist, and friend of the school, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Eight takes this opportunity to offer its most sincere appreciation.

THE Class of '38 has been one of an outstanding character. We entered the school one of the largest classes ever to be admitted. Our class was not only recognized by its quantity but also by the quality of men contained in it.

Many of our classmates have dropped by the wayside, until now, we are graduating with half our original number.

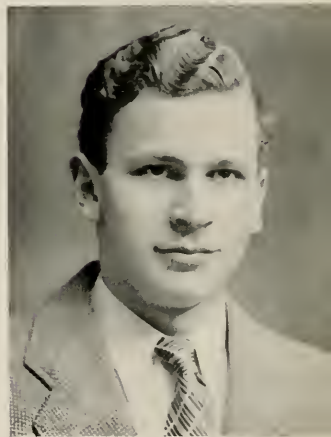

As president of the Senior Class, I wish to extend my gratitude to you, my fellow classmates, for the fine co-operation given me during our three years as students. I am proud of you and I wish you the same success in your life's work as you shared with the class.

Class President
HAROLD HASS

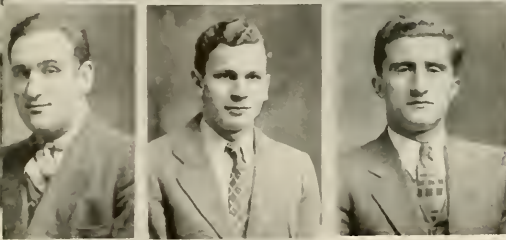

COMMENCEMENT is a very solemn period in the life of any young man. It is at once an ending and a beginning; a breaking away from the old ties and friendships, an ending of the spirit of youth, the period of preparation.

For three years our school has been preparing the graduating class for this conflict. How well it has succeeded, only the future can reveal. From now on you of the graduating class are to be classified as men — "National Farm School Men". Conduct yourself so that your Alma Mater will be proud to claim you as her own.

Senior Directory

"Macbeth"

William Shakespeare, 1564-1616

EDWARD CARLTON ANGELL
Towson High School
401 Bosley Avenue

Dairy
Towson, Md.

*"A kind and gentle heart he has,
To comfort friends and foes."*

3. Livestock Club.
Eddie introduced "truckin'" to Farm School a long time before the craze hit Harlem. His walk and grin afforded us many enjoyable evenings during a dull summer. Coming from a family of Magistrates he found it easy to abide by laws. A true dairyman at heart, Eddie spent all of his time either being nursemaid to "the girls" at the dairy or lying in bed in his "three-timing" clothes bull sessioning. Never mixed in social life, but that was because he put all his energy into his work.

LOUIS BATALSKY

*"Happy, humble clown!
Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."*

1. Band, Orchestra, Football Squad, Poultry Club, Musical Organization.
2. Band, Orchestra, Football Squad, Poultry Club.
3. Band, Orchestra, Football Squad, Poultry Club, Dramatic Club.
Has more nicknames than he has dates, and that's saying something. His big grin and recitation of "The Face on the Bar Room Floor" has brought laughter to dances for three years. Adept at playing any instrument, "Bartell" can beat out a mean trumpet. His endeavors never went unnoticed. Dances would have been very dull without him for not only did he help supply the entertainment and music, but the girls as well.

*"His hopes are not always realized,
But he always hopes."*

1. Class Track, Class Football, Class Basketball, Basketball Squad.
2. Varsity Basketball, Class Wrestling, Class Basketball, Interdorm Sports, Class Track, Varsity Football, Musical Organization, Band Manager.
3. Varsity Basketball, Varsity Football, Interdorm Sports, Band Manager, Musical Organization.
A good Jewish nose earned him the nom de plume of "O'Brien". "Slim" came to school weighing 149 pounds and with a disposition as sweet as a six-year-old and never a day of athletics in his life. Under Sam's tutelage he went up to 180 pounds and acquired a mean disposition as well as earning his football and basketball letters for two years. Pitched first floor Ulman to a softball championship which makes him a three-letter man. The only girl he ever had his picture taken with is his mother.

NISON BURSSTEIN

73 Carson Avenue

"Be to his virtues very kind,
Be to his faults a little blind."

1. Football Squad, Class Track, Hort Club.
2. Hort Club, Band, Musical Organization.
3. Hort Club.

His wordings and Polish dialect gave us many a hearty laugh. Coming direct from Warsaw the "Turk" caught on to all the American ways very quickly. The story of how his temperment mounted when the coal car came in is history. Next to Patrick Henry's "Give me liberty or give me death", "Nate's" "Vat time it tis, Cherry" will be recorded for posterity.

"A lion among ladies is a most dreadful thing."

1. Class Track, Class Baseball, Class Football, Varsity Basketball, Class Secretary, Class Treasurer, Class Vice-President, Interdorm Sports.
2. Varsity Basketball, Class Football, Assistant Trainer Football, Interdorm Sports.
3. Co-captain Varsity Basketball, Freshmen Track Coach, A. A. Board, Council, Senate, Football Trainer, Interdorm Sports.

A magnetic personality coupled with a winning smile and the captaincy of the basketball team made him quite popular with the girls as well as the fellows. Owning a record of being in love with at least one girl at a time, "Schmully" has had more heart affairs than he can count on his fingers. A letterman in basketball for three years, his fight and drive helped to win many games.

Life is short and wears away."

1. Baseball Squad, Class Baseball, Hort Club, Livestock Club, Class Football, Band, Musical Organization.
2. Varsity Baseball, Class Football.
3. Band, Hort Club, Musical Organization.

We really never got to know the "Bomber", for he had a habit of being by himself. We know he was a good athlete before that knee operation, but what we didn't know was that he was a "killer" with the weaker sex, but then you'd have to be if you had Batalsky for a room-mate.

FREDERICK A. ENTERS, JR.

FWEDDIE

"Neatness is never wasted."

1. Orchestra, Hort Club.
3. Hort Club.

We wondered at times if Freddie lived in Farm School or in New Britain. We don't doubt that being in love takes up a lot of your time, but it was Enters that proved to us that it could take up all of your time. The only hours he spent in school were during Industrials, and sometimes we wonder at that.

BERNARD FEINBERG

"The impromptu reply is precisely the Touchstone of wit."

1. Band, "Gleaner" Staff.
2. Band, Musical Organization, "Gleaner" Staff.
3. Hort Club, Dramatic Club, "Gleaner" Staff.

The king of wit. A rare sense of humor, combined with an understanding, made "Beany" a very likeable chap, even if he did mumble under his breath when he was talking. His adventures with Mr. Schneider and his lackadaisical smile will be remembered by most of us when all other things are forgotten. An orchid to the lad who helped us take old man gloom by the horns.

1. Interdorm Sports, Football Trainer, Band.
2. Football Trainer, Livestock Club.
3. Livestock Club.

Our class politician, wealthy playboy. Always in debt, but still managed to get credit. A landscaper at heart, he found out that there were more loopholes in dairy restrictions. Quick thinking and shrewd, he will make a good business man.

"What! Art still here?"

1. Baseball Squad, Class Baseball Captain.
2. Varsity Baseball, Varsity Basketball.
3. Varsity Baseball, Varsity Basketball.

Any time there was a shower of elbows and knees in a chase for a basketball, you could be sure "Pete" was in on it. Though small of stature, plenty of fight enabled him to hold his own against all opponents. Quiet, bashful, and shy as a Mutt, Roy acquired the necessary qualifications to blossom forth as a wolf with the ladies in his Senior year.

2. Council, Class Wrestling, Class Boxing, Band, Orchestra Manager, Class Vice President, Prom Committee, Hort Club.
3. Council, Senate, Freshman Class Advisor, Night Inspector, Interdorm Sports.

Quiet, kind, gentle, deep-thinking "Yitz". His popularity was due to his understanding and sympathetic nature which were secondary to his intelligence. An idealist at heart, "I" hopes for that day when peace will reign on earth and his dream of Palestine is an actuality.

2. Class Wrestling, Band, Class Baseball, Varsity Football, Poultry Club, Varsity Club, "Gleaner" Staff, Interdorm Sports.
3. Varsity Football, Poultry Club President, Varsity Club Vice-President, "Gleaner" Staff, Business Manager Yearbook, Interdorm Sports.

Picturesque, hard-fighting, soft-hearted Jerry. A press agent's dream, for publicity seems to seek him out. Always seems to be busy and his activities show he had good reason to be. His slogan of 10% on all ads will live long after him. A splendid combination of student, athlete and "social lite".

JOHN PRICE FREEHAVER

"He is content to know and remain unknown."

1. Livestock Club, Hort Club, Class Basketball, Interdorm Sports.
2. Hort Club, Interdorm Sports, Class Basketball, Council, A. A. Store
3. Council, Senate, Class Vice-President, Interdorm Sports.

A willing worker, "Johnny" was content to do his share and step out of the limelight when the credit was being "dished out". Always high in scholastics, he still found time to be vice-president of the Senior Class and a Senator, as well as being Mr. Feisser's right hand man. Quiet, sincere, taste and desire temperate, "Johnny" has been a big help to the Class of '38.

3. Class Secretary, "Gleaner" Staff, Vice President Hort Club, President Dramatic Club, "Yearbook" Staff.

His face, mind and ability belie his youthfulness. Though he indulged in neither sports or women he was very much socially minded. As director of the Theatre Guild, he put tireless efforts into the colossal productions for which they were noted. (What if it was N. Y. A. work?)

3. Varsity Baseball, Council, "Gleaner" Staff, "Yearbook" Staff, Night Inspector, Dramatic Club, Interdorm Sports, Varsity Club, Head Cheerleader.

A cute face and a high pitched voice were deceiving, for "Lou" was a good athlete and a swell wrestler. Despite the fact that he was night inspector and collected laundry bills, he was able to remain one of the most liked fellows in school.

Little man, what now? He proved his salt on ice skates, in decorating for the dances, and on the Hort tractor. His pet ambition is to be a second Jackie Shea; — more proof, that men are not measured by inches.

3. Council, Hort Club, Dramatic Club.

"Flash" himself. To look at him in horn rimmed glasses, in need of a shave and haircut, one would think him to be a stuffed intellectual, but Gil is really an ace. Full of pep, he is always ready for a practical joke. Doesn't smoke, drink, swear, or dance, in fact, his only vice is his good nature.

3. Manager Varsity Basketball, "Yearbook" Staff, Hort Club, A. A. Board, A. A. Store Manager.

Howard is one of the more conscientious students whose enthusiasm and zest helped to raise the standard of work in Hort. A good businessman, he made the A. A. Store pay without the use of any ballyhoo!

The mind of an Einstein, the logic of a Darrow, and the persistency of an insurance salesman, added to a desire to be alone made him our outstanding scholar. 3. Varsity Club Vice-President, President Council, President A. A. Board, Class President, Senate, Co-Captain Varsity Football.

A forceful personality and determination with a never-say-die heart were the school's outstanding leader's qualifications. His motto, "If you want a thing done right, do it yourself", was responsible for a year of the best dances Farm School has ever seen and a student body which has never been paralleled.

3. Varsity Football, Varsity Club, Senate.

We once knew him as "Foggy" but he has come out of it since. A fun-loving fellow, he used to diet on beer, but now sticks to egg nog. He would make a good end for any football team and has a powerful kicking toe "to boot".

Feet which are big, a heart which is bigger, and a walk which resembles a wriggling snake, lets you know it's Lynn P., nicknamed "Lover", but we never found out what it was he loved. Had more excuses for not doing week-end details than Solomon had wives, but they were always Kosher.

2. Captain Varsity Basketball, Varsity Football, Class Boxing, Hort Club, Class Football Coach, A. A. Board, Varsity Club, Class Baseball.
3. Varsity Football, Varsity Basketball, President Varsity Club, Freshman Boxing Coach, Freshman Football Coach, Hort Club.

You'd think that a good looking, youthful, smart dressing athlete with a car would have plenty of dates, but our bashful "Jack Armstrong" just isn't that way with the women. Modest and shy, "Kappy" yearns for baseball games and fights rather than dates. A coach's prayer answered, Marty can carry the apple, block and back up a line equally well. Our prize athlete.

Those nervous fingers of his were annoying, but they helped bring forth "swell swing" on the clarinet. An authority on poultry or anything else; just ask him. We give him credit for being the most improved student in school.

CARL KAUFMAN

"A man steady and resolved to his task."

1. Band, Livestock Club, Poultry Club, Class Football, Class Secretary.
2. Livestock Club, Poultry Club, Class Secretary, Class Boxing, Class Football, Poultry Club Treasurer.

Blonde, lean and pigeon-toed describes him. This does not justify his ability to work. Carl possessed those combined character traits seldom found in individuals. A clever, determined mind, a fighting heart plus a strong body, made him a student of whom the school is proud to point to as an alumnus. Though he said little in amount, his words were great in knowledge.

GEORGE KESSLER

1. Livestock Club, Hort Club, Class Track.
2. Class Track, Class Football, Class Baseball, Hort Club, Livestock Club.
3. President Hort Club, Senate.

Another one of those boys who was pleased with his own company. Participated in class sports and took time out to act as president of the Hort Society. Will no doubt share "Yitz's" stateroom on his voyage to Palestine. Noted as a fine speaker, he could always talk you into paying your newspaper bill.

SAMUEL KWASS

1. Class Boxing, Class Football, Orchestra Manager, Poultry Club.
2. Class Wrestling, Class Track, Orchestra Manager, Poultry Club, Prom Committee, Musical Organization.
3. Poultry Club.

Carried the picture of his girl around in the face of his watch, so I guess it must be love. Worked for the Bezdeks so long he was dubbed "Bez., Jr." A swell poultryman, handy with tools, Sam should make out well on a poultry farm. Maybe it'll be Bezdeks?

SHERMAN LEVISON

1. Class Wrestling, Class Boxing, Band, Orchestra.
2. Orchestra Leader, Class Secretary, Prom Committee, Band.
3. Band, Orchestra Leader, Band Leader, Hort Club, Glee Club, Harmonica Club.

Philosopher, poet and musician. His bits of philosophy were always welcome though inopportune at times. His poetic soul was in constant rebellion with traditional conventions. Good at the sax, better at the mouth organ, but best leading the band.

"Virtue is like a rich stone, best plain set."

1. Interdorm Sports, Class Football, Class Basketball, Basketball Squad, Live-stock Club.
2. Varsity Baseball, Interdorm Sports, Class Football, Class Track, Hort Club, Class Basketball, Basketball Squad.
3. Basketball Squad, A. A. Board Secretary, Varsity Baseball, Hort Club, "Gleaner" Staff, "Yearbook" Staff.

Though the youngest in the class in years, "Monk" is far from being the class baby. An outstanding student of economic, history and social problems, Ernie has livened up many of our otherwise dull classes by his authoritative comments. He is a patron of the drama and spent most of his allowance for theatre tickets. A true example to prove the old adage that "Genius is allied with youth".

MARTIN MOLDOFSKY

1. Class Wrestling, Band, Hort Club.
2. Class Wrestling, Band, Poultry Club, Class Football.
3. Band, Poultry Club, Cheerleader.

A keen mind plus an attitude of indifference to any worries and a desire to raise a racket all rolled together make the best picture of the school's play director, actor, and general producer. Always forward and a lover of a good time, he transmitted a great deal of that fun to us all.

3. Varsity Basketball, Band, Orchestra, Poultry Club, Hort Club, Musical Organization President.

The "Snake" always meant well, but you know how those things are. Never took a picture without something going wrong. Quite eccentric, but all musicians are, so the "Ghost" and his trumpet are no exceptions. As president of the Music Organization he helped further the love of music in the school.

HAROLD E. NORDBLOM

"Tired nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep."

1. Livestock Club, Class Baseball.
2. Livestock Club, Poultry Club.
3. Livestock Club.

"Head" would make Rip van Winkle look like an amateur. Slept through three years of classes and industrials. Nothing bothers him and he will probably sleep through his wedding. He liked to "three time" so he could split his sleeping period into three parts. While he was awake he proved to be of valuable assistance to the Dairy Department.

DAVID OSCHRIN

"Had they not suffered they never would have achieved."

1. "Gleaner" Staff, Livestock Club, Band.
2. Associate Editor of the "Gleaner", Class Football Manager, Band, Press Club, Musical Organization, Livestock Club.
3. Editor of the "Gleaner", Hort Club, Editor of the "Yearbook".

"Davodel" thought he had a tough job turning out "Gleaners" and getting out of work early enough to listen to "Big Sister", but he reckoned without the task of convincing the Dean that some perspiration had fallen from his brow. His secret of how to get finished with his work early enough to take a shower before meals was the envy of all the fellows, but during the times he did report to work he managed to learn a bit about landscaping and did more than his share in restocking Itzik's depleted tool supply.

An unusual combination — a rough and tough bruising football player and a quiet student of Shakespeare. Anyone seeking reading material could find it in "Squint's" room. Loves to eat candy, smoke a pipe, and just relax.

Freshman Class History

Class Presidents

THE majority of the class of '35, one of the largest ever to attend the National Farm School, embarked on their arduous but fruitful journey on April 3, 1935. The rest joined us in June, after they had completed their high school training.

The first two or three days were spent in adapting ourselves to the unique environment by which we were surrounded. Then came the S. S. A., a night few of us will forget. Here we were forcibly taught our humble positions as Mutts. From this time until our junior year, freshmen were seen haunting the basements of the various buildings and curiously enough, always choosing the longest route when traversing from one building to another. We were given many other regulations which were strictly enforced by the much revered Judge Boehner and his Senate.

Our first encounter with the upperclassmen was successful when Stoumen, Kaercher, Breverman, Moscovitz, Ferencik, and Sabatini fisticuffed their way to victory losing only two bouts. Not to be outdone, the juniors came back and out-grappled our stalwart huskies, 4 to 3. We took the track meet in stride, followed by the annual baseball game in which lanky "Snake" Moscovitz pitched his way to victory after having suffered a terrific crack in the skull by a ball thrown from the stinging arm of catcher "Bomber" Crane.

Few of us will forget the summer of our freshman year. At this time we were initiated to the drudgery that must be suffered by the farmer in order to obtain the fruits of his labor. At this time the student body was displeased to hear of the dismissal of Mr. Montgomery and Mr. Stangel, two of our best liked faculty members.

That fall we further humiliated the juniors when eleven mud-clad heroes emerged from a sea of mud after having defeated a valiant junior outfit, 8 to 0. In the annual basketball contest the upperclassmen regained some of their lost prestige when they outscored our tossers in a hard-fought battle, 29 to 27.

At the close of our freshman year we were thrown into a state of mourning when Miss Rebecca Churchman and Mr. Harmon Kraft, of the Library and General Agriculture, respectively, passed away.

Thus we enter our junior year.

Junior Class History

AS juniors we threw off our chains and became free men, no longer bothered with incessant squad duties and aggravating detours and details. We had little trouble taming the new Mutts, although we were a little more humane to the dumb animals than the previous class had been to us. We again won boxing, eking out a 4 to 3 victory, largely due to Dom Sabatini, who not being satisfied with winning one bout, proceeded to win another. This followed with a draw in wrestling and an easy victory in the track and field events.

The personnel of the faculty saw quite a few changes. Mr. Fox, assistant instructor in Horticulture, was succeeded by Ben Zeider, who inspired us with his energetic manner of work and wit. Mr. Zeider left us in the fall to work on his own farm, to be followed by Professor Lipman. Mr. Brick resigned as social director and coach of baseball and basketball and King Zeigler followed in his footsteps. We were sorry to see our librarian, Miss Fine, resign, whereupon Mrs. Maud Maines took over the duties as librarian. Mr. Russel Weaver and his lovely wife and two children were heartily welcomed to Farm School in June. We were thrown into a state of mourning when our beloved seamstress Mavis passed away.

Then began the long work on the Junior Prom. After exceedingly exhausting efforts, a dull gymnasium was transformed into a magnificent, miraculous something. At least that's what the girls told us and that was sufficient. For the second year in a row we were forced to re-enact our roles as football mudturtles to plaster out a 14 to 0 triumph against our Muttie rivals.

Our next task was a difficult and more serious one. We were to choose one of the seven departments in which agriculture is divided. It seems that the enchanting cock crows and the inviting look of delicious apples were most appealing because it was Poultry and Horticulture that drafted the largest crews.

FIFTY-THREE strong, we entered the portals of Seniordom contented to assume the airs of patriarchs and to watch from a high throne the spirited contests between the "commoners" of our kingdom.

After a short period of class work we segregated into the departments of our choice and for seven months we undertook the various tasks that were expected from us.

Due to the illustrious coaching of our star athletes, the freshmen won their share of victories against the juniors in the numerous sports contests.

The dances were very successful under the untiring efforts of the student body president and the student council. The Hallowe'en Dance will always be remembered as the most outstanding Council dance ever to be given at N. F. S. The entire gym was decorated to resemble a barn and numerous games and Jam sessions livened up the activities of the evening. The "swing" band, under the baton of "Hook" Katzen, was the most successful musical undertaking attempted in our stay at Farm School.

The first seven months passed amazingly fast and we found ourselves back in the classrooms working on the Dean's problem and the numerous other problems given to us to tax our already overburdened minds.

The new year saw several changes in the faculty. Mr. Thompson and Mr. Roberts of the Dairy Department and Mr. Yoselson of the Poultry Department resigned from the teaching staff. At the time this goes to print, no successors have as yet been appointed.

Through the efforts of the dramatically minded seniors a new organization was formed on the campus. Known as the "Theatre Guild", they provided enjoyable entertainment for numerous assemblies. We hope this will become one of the permanent organizations in the school.

The Senior Prom was a glamorous affair enjoyed by an almost 100% senior attendance. The gym was transformed into a veritable wonderland of Bacchanalian orgies due to the invigorating punch concocted by Maitre d'hotel Sandberg. (See footnote*)

Our last job was the compilation of this yearbook, which we hope is a true symbol of the calibre of the class of 1938.

*As this goes to press the Senior Prom is still a month off.

Haas— "Mule" will go down as one of the best centers ever to fight for the Green and Gold.

Rintz— "Cy" did a swell job of passing, ball carrying and quick kicking. It was hard to "bottle up" his speed.

Happ— "Ally" always managed to snare a pass when the outcome depended on it. Our star punter.

Frankel— Jerry had more trouble with the referee than with the opposing team. Our choice for any All American squad.

Rader— "Squint" was our iron guard. He will be a difficult man to replace.

Blumenfeld— Slim used his Herculean build to break up many a play.

Sabatini— "Sab" was always good for three yards through the line. His bum knee didn't keep him from a good year.

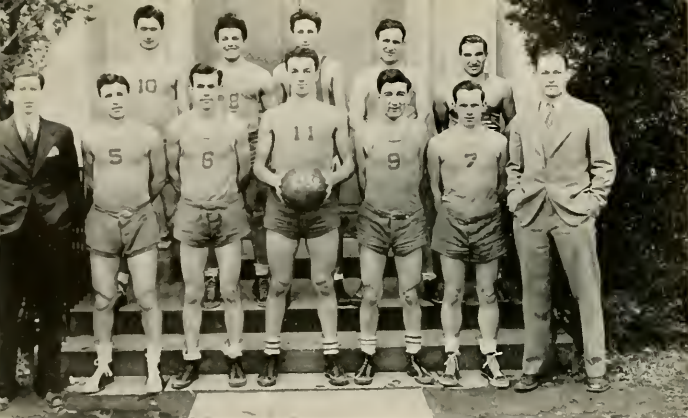

Batalsky— "Batty's" Irish wit made the heartbreakers seem less gloomy.

Roseman— Mike's was a success story. He made his letter in his Junior year.

Rabinowitz— "Babe's" keen observation and his fine analyses were a big help to Coach Samuels.

Charlesworth— Sammy's first aid kit was always on hand. The only man who looked for injuries.

Fox— "Peter" was the best foul shot on the team. He should have taken more field shots.

Charlesworth— "Sammy" was an able co-captain and the team's high scorer. The loss of two teeth in the P. S. D. game didn't dampen his ardor.

Zartarian— "Pasha" was the smoothest ball handler on the squad. When he was "on", the basket took an awful beating.

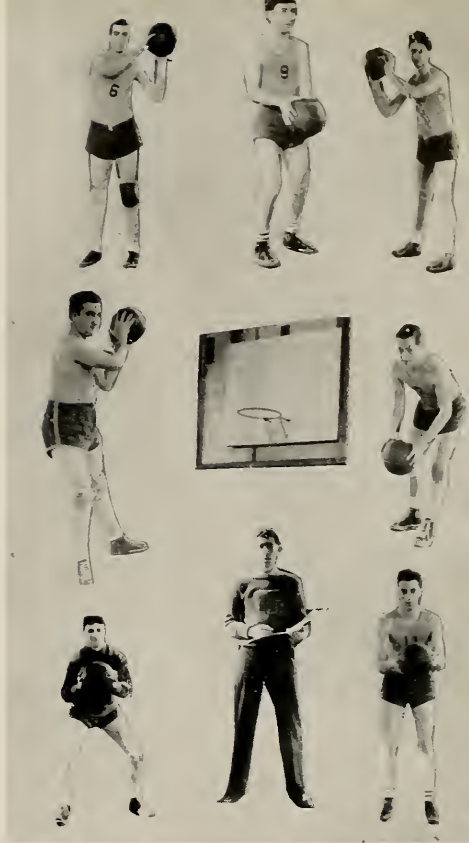

Blumenfeld— "Slim" was the most improved player on the team. Despite the center jump elimination, he proved a valuable player.

Kaplan— "Mori" was noted for his one-handed shots. When "hot", he spelled defeat for the opposing team.

Moscovitz— "Snake's" ability to get injured always managed to keep him on the bench. We hear that the Penn State coach is eagerly awaiting him.

Rabinowitz— "Babe" did very well for his first year on the Varsity. His only drawback was his weak ankles.

Gluckman— To see Howard shoot, you would think he was the star player rather than the manager.

Rintz— Alias Frank Merriwell. "Cy's" biggest moment was that homer in the P. S. D. game with 2 out and the bases loaded in the 9th inning.

Stoumen— His specialty was fielding the ball through the elm trees in the field. Boy! What an arm!

Meyers— He has the Dean to thank for his 150% rise in his batting average. He handled the "hot corner" fairly well.

Fox— "Pete" always wanted to be a pitcher. If he could hit in the games as well as in practice, the big leagues would seek him out.

Crane— "Bomber" was outstanding in his Junior year. His knee operation kept him out in the last year.

Gershenson— "Lou" was the steadiest hitter on the team. The keystone sack was ably handled by the Philadelphia flash.

Hyde— "Proc's" able bat carrying and ball chasing was a dominant factor in the team's success.

Athletic Director

Samuel B. Samuels

THE departure of this graduating class signifies another strong link in the long chain of classes which, we have no doubt, will develop a strong spirit and school consciousness for the welfare of their Alma Mater as the years follow after graduation. One of the many important aspects of an institution is the interest and enthusiasm which the graduates can show in the welfare of their Alma Mater. This group of young men during their three years' life at the school have taken a keen interest in every phase of activity and have been successful in fulfilling all the splendid traditions set forth by previous groups. It is a pleasure to be able to mention that a high standard of spirit and enthusiasm has been established by the individuals who are not competitors on the various athletic teams representing the school. The ability to show loyalty and enthusiasm, while not competing, is the real expression of spirit which is so necessary to those individuals who represent the various teams on the field of play. This type of expression is indicative of a purpose well served in educating the students not only in leadership, but also the importance of being good followers for an ideal as represented by the various team organizations. The various Seniors who were active on the athletic field for their Alma Mater and will now graduate are to be commended, but it must not be forgotten that their classmates are also worthy of appreciative expression and that they are also factors in developing a splendid tradition of school spirit and school consciousness as shown by the fact that they have taught their undergraduates the importance of loyalty and enthusiasm to their schoolmates by following their endeavors on various fields of activity in the interest of their Alma Mater.

The football team will lose two good captains in Harold Haas, one of our outstanding centers in football history; and Elmer Rintz, a splendid back-field man and all around football player. Other men who have done a great deal to carry on the traditions of our football teams are: S. Blumenfeld, P. Rader, H. Brambly, M. Kaplan, J. Frankel, A. Happ, L. Rabinowitz and D. Sabatini.

The Farm School basketball quintet will miss the valuable services of the captains, Edward Zartarian and Samuel Charlesworth, and also R. Fox, S. Blumenfeld, M. Kaplan, L. Rabinowitz and M. Moskovitz.

The baseball team will be confronted by a problem in replacing the following: Captain Elmer Rintz, Crane, Meyers, Gershenson, Stoumen and Fox.

It is gratifying to feel that this graduating class of 1938 can be considered an asset to our Alma Mater from the standpoint that eventually they should be factors in expressing their feeling for the interest and welfare of this institution. We hope these young men will also have confidence in knowing that their institution will always be pleased to give assistance and advice for their welfare.

CHAPTER THREE

School Activities

"Ivanhoe"

Sir Walter Scott, 1771-1832

The Council

HAROLD HAAS, president

ELMER RINTZ,
vice-president

SAMUEL
CHARLESWORTH,
secretary

Top row—Klotz, Gerson, Seligman, Levinstone, Derfler.
3rd row—Goldberg, Egert, Zartarian, Moyer, Gerstein.
2nd row—Emil, Perkes, Gershenson, Frankel, Freehafer.
Seated—Luppinacci, Rintz, Haas, Charlesworth, Rabinowitz.

Composed of representatives of all classes, this organization is one of the busiest on our campus. Arranging dances, extra-curricular activities, freshman squad duties, and straightening out grievances makes up the major part of their work.

The Senate

PAUL RADER, judge
SAMUEL
CHARLESWORTH,
secretary

Standing—Luppinacci, Frankel, Zartarian, Kessler, Kaplan, Freehafer, Happ.

Seated—Rintz, Haas, Rader, Charlesworth, Rabinowitz.

The bug-a-boo of every freshman class! The stalwart gentlemen in the Senate see that Frosh rules and regulations are carried out and that violators are suitably punished.

The Gleaner

DAVID OSCHRIN,
editor-in-chief

JEROME FRANKEL,
business manager

Top row—Praissman, Persico, Pearlman, Yoselson, Samuels, Lerner, Rubens, Cohen, Ziegler.

Front row—Ringler, Morris, Frankel, Oschrin, Rabinowitz, Gabriel, Gershenson.

As the medium for students with literary ability, the "Gleaner" attracts aspirants from the entire student body. Short stories, sport write-ups, verse, and humor are included in the publication to which any student may contribute.

Musical Organization

MORRIS MOSCOVITZ,
president

HAROLD KATZEN,
secretary

Top row—Bogatin, Belford, Schneps, Heller.

3rd row—Kaufman, Morris, Ettlinger, Schmidt, Long.

2nd row—Cohen, Speigel, Nickman, Shimon, Levinstone, Trasken, Moyer, Batalisky.

Seated—Blumenfeld, Hyde, Ringler, Moscovitz, Lt. Frankel, Katzen, Stoumen, Moldofsky, Crane.

Created as a means for music lovers to get together, the Musical Organization is rapidly rising in prestige. Their activities consist of arranging interesting lectures on musical topics and sponsoring a concert at the end of the year.

Freshman Class

MILTON SHAMITZ,
president

SIDNEY MINES,
vice-president

CHARLES THOMAS,
secretary

SYDNEY SPIEGEL, treasurer

The underdogs of the school who are released, when the Seniors depart. Though theirs is a lowly life, the pleasant memories of that year are not soon forgotten.

Junior Class

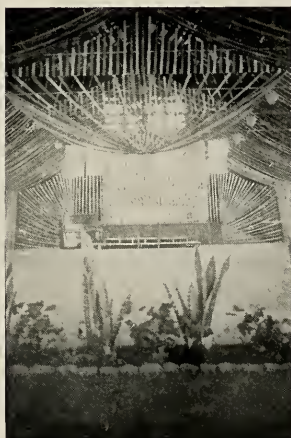

SAMUEL LUPPINACCI,
president

ALBERT KOSLAN,
vice-president

CARL JACOBUS,
secretary

The headman after the Seniors are gone. To the Junior Class goes the task of taking up where the Seniors leave off, and attempting to duplicate or better their accomplishments.

The Orchestra

ARTHUR ISBIT, leader
MAX NEEDLES, manager
L. RABINOWITZ, vocalist

Standing—Rabinowitz, Speigel, Perkes, Batalsky, Ettlinger, Shimon, Moscovitz, Moyer, Long, Blau, Nickman.
Seated—Katzen, Levison, Kagan, Isbit, Bogatin.

Composed of the most capable musicians in school, the Orchestra is an important addition to our social life. They play at the school dances and at other affairs, where their music is opportune.

The Band

SHERMAN LEVISON,
leader

SAUL BLUMENFELD, manager

Top row—Moldofsky, Blumenfeld, Shimon, Isbit, Needles.

3rd row—Tuman, Stoumen, Kagan, Ringler, B. Cohen.

Front row—Hyde, Morris, Katzen, Levison, Lt. Frankel, Moscovitz, Levinstone, Moyer, Long.

The Band holds an important place in the extra-curricular life of the school. Throughout the year, it makes appearances at various school functions and it adds color and atmosphere with its playing at the home football games. Under the supervision of Lt. Frankel, valuable training is offered to boys who desire to learn to play an instrument.

Poultry Club

J. FRANKEL, president
 M. SHAPIRO,
 vice president
 W. STEIN, secretary
 J. SIMON, treasurer

Organized for and by the poultry lovers of the school, the club does much to further interest in this particular branch of agriculture. Outstanding authorities in the poultry field are contacted to lecture the club and several trips are made to nearby poultry centers during the year.

Top row—Moscovitz, Pett, Ringler.

3rd row—Isbit, Batalsky, Kopelow, Kwass, Moïsovitz, Stein.

2nd row—Katzen, Moldofsky, Rabinowitz, Hyde, Perkes.

Seated—Mr. Toor, Shapira, Frankel, Simon, Mr. Yoselson.

Valedictory

PHILIP GORLIN

Mr. Chairman, Members of the Board, Faculty,
Parents, Guests and Fellow Students:

The time has come for us to part. It is only a matter of minutes, and we shall no longer be students of the National Farm School, but new recruits to its ever increasing alumni.

How slowly did those first few months drag, when we first came here, full of enthusiasm and soaring ambition. The strain was great and many of us fell by the wayside. The years sped by. We tasted joy and sorrow, victory and defeat; we made new friends and gained an occupation.

The love of nature had led most of us to the choice of Agriculture as a career. Many were the days we were amply repaid for our toil by a beautiful sunset, or a breeze bearing the fragrance of newly mown hay. But these carefree days have come to an end. We are going out into the world in the midst of a "recession". Nevertheless, we are well prepared and know no fear. The field is immense, and there is room for all. The solution to the farmer's problem lies in his co-operation, amity and education and not in competition and rugged individualism. There is no surplus problem but one of faulty distribution. These all could be conquered peacefully by education and research.

The cities of the world are overcrowded with people who would find contentment on the farm, but who are blinded to this fact in their mad quest for elusive fortune. Our government is making a sincere effort to solve the rural problem, so let us all co-operate. With a united front, confidence in ourselves and our ability, determination and sincerity of purpose, success is surely ours.

Thus, I bring this message to a close by extending the sincere appreciation and thanks of this graduating class to all those gathered here, who were instrumental in guiding us for the past three years and those whose generosity made our education possible.
